An ACT to encourage the speedy apprehending and bringing to Justice divers Robbers, Burglars and Felons.

Section 1. WHEREAS Caleb Paul, John Paul, Robert Steel, Aaron Doan, Mahlon Doan, Edward Connard, Henry Connard, Jeremiah Cooper, Amos White, Joseph Doan, Abraham Doan, Levi Doan and George Sinclair, have been duly attainted by outlawry, in the supreme court of this state, of several robberies, burglaries and felonies, by them committed within the same; notwithstanding which attainders they continue to perpetrate the like offences, to the great disquiet, terror and impoverishing of many of the good citizens of this commonwealth: And whereas Gideon Vernon, Thomas Bulla, Amos Williams, Edward Richardson and George Burns, are suspected and charged, and it appears to the legislature that there is good cause to suspect and charge them, and every of them, with being accomplices in the aforesaid robberies, burglaries and felonies; which crimes might be in great measure prevented in future, and the said offenders be speedily brought to justice, if due encouragement be given to such as shall vigorously endeavour the apprehending the said malefactors; and some severe punishment inflicted on such as shall hereafter receive or buy money or goods by them or any of them stolen, knowing the same to be so, or shall receive, relieve, harbour, comfort or assist the said offenders, or any of them.

Section 2. Be it therefore enacted, and it is hereby enacted by the representatives of the Freemen of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in general assembly met, and by the authority of the same, That, from and after the publication of this act, all and every person and persons, who shall apprehend and take the aforesaid Caleb Paul, John Paul, Robert Steel, Aaron Doan, Mahlon Doan, Edward Connard, Henry Connard, Jeremiah Cooper, Amos White, Joseph Doan, Abraham Doan, Levi Doan, George Sinclair, Gideon Vernon, Thomas Bulla, Amos Williams, Edward Richardson and George Burns, or any of them, and deliver them or him to the sheriff of any county in this state, in the common goal of the same county, or to the keeper of any goal there, and obtain a certificate thereof from such sheriff or goaler, which one of them is hereby authorized and required to give upon such delivery, shall, on producing the said certificate to the president or vice-president in council, the same being countersigned by one of the judges of the supreme court, or any two justices of the peace, receive an order on the treasurer for the sum of Three Hundred Pounds, for each and every of the persons aforesaid so taken and delivered; and the said sheriff and goaler are hereby empowered and required, without any mittimus or other authority, to receive the said offenders or offender so delivered in such goal, and them or him to keep safe, until thence discharged by due course of law, under the penalty of being punished as for a wilful escape of a capital felon; and in case any dispute shall happen to arise between the persons so apprehending, taking and delivering the said offenders, touching the right and title to the said reward, that then the said judge or justices, so respectively countersigning as aforesaid, shall, together with the said certificate, direct in writing, under his or their hands, the said reward to be paid to and amongst the parties claiming the same, in such shares and proportions as to the said judge or justices shall seem just and reasonable.

Section 3. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if any of the offenders herein before named, or any other person who has committed any robbery or burglary, being out of prison, shall, from and after the publication of this act, apprehend and take, and cause to be delivered as aforesaid, two or more of the said persons before named, who have been outlawed as aforesaid, or two or more of the other persons herein before last named, so as two or more of the persons last named shall be convicted of any robbery or burglary, the person so apprehending and delivering in the first case, and so apprehending and prosecuting to conviction in the second case, shall himself have the reward and allowance of One Hundred Pounds, upon producing to the president or vice president in council a certificate, signed and countersigned as before mentioned, together also with a pardon of all robberies, burglaries, and other offences not capital, by him committed at any time or times before such apprehending and taking, if the supreme executive council of this state shall think it advisable by their proclamation to promise the same, which pardon shall be likewise a good bar to any appeal brought for such robbery or burglary.

Section 4. And forasmuch as the said felons are much encouraged to commit such robberies and burglaries, because a great number of persons receive and buy of the said felons the money and goods so by them feloniously taken, and also do make it their business to harbour and conceal the said offenders after the said facts, knowing the said robberies and burglaries to have been by them committed; be it therefore enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if any person or persons shall receive or buy any money, goods or chattels, that have been or shall be feloniously taken or stolen by the offenders herein before named, or any of them, from any other person, knowing the same to be so, or shall receive, relieve, harbour, comfort or assist the said offenders, or any of them, knowing them to be such, he, she or they so offending shall be deemed and taken to be accessory or accessories to the said robberies or burglaries; and, being of either of said offences legally convicted, shall suffer and incur the pains of death, without benefit of clergy, but without working corruption of blood, loss of power, or forfeiture of lands or goods.

Section 5. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if any person or persons shall discover any one or more persons, who, from and after the publication of this act, shall have received money, goods or chattels, that have been or shall be feloniously taken or stolen by the offenders herein before named from any other person, knowing the same to be so; or shall discover any person or persons, who shall receive, relieve, harbour, comfort or assist the said offenders, or any of them, knowing them to be such, so as he, she or they so discovered shall be convicted of either of the said offences, any such discoverer shall have a reward of fifty pounds; and that the judges before whom such offenders shall be convicted as aforesaid, or one of them, shall determine and settle the rights and shares of such respective persons who shall be entitled to the said reward, and give a certificate thereof (being thereunto required) to the person or persons so entitled thereunto, who thereupon shall, on application to the president or vice-president in council, receive an order on the treasurer of the state for the aforesaid reward.

Section 6. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That in case any person or persons shall happen to be killed or wounded, so as to lose an eye, or the use of any limb, in apprehending, or in making pursuit after such robbers, burglars, felons, receivers, of stolen money or goods, or receivers, harbourers or comforters of such robbers or burglars, on proof thereof at the court of general quarter sessions of the peace and goal delivery, for the county where the same shall happen, the justices, or three of them, shall give a certificate thereof to the executor or administrator of the person so killed, or to the person so wounded, which shall entitle them, on application to the president or vice-president in council, to receive an order on the treasurer of the state, if killed, for the sum of three hundred pounds, and if wounded as aforesaid, for the sum of one hundred and fifty pounds.

Section 7. And whereas it is the duty of every person legally accused of any crime quietly to yield himself up to the justice of his country, and also of every citizen and subject to use his best endeavours for preventing the escape of any robber, burglar, or other felon, be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if any of the offenders herein before named shall resist any person or persons endeavouring to arrest or imprison him, and he, so making resistance, shall happen to be killed, or if any of them shall fly from any person or persons endeavouring to apprehend him, and in the pursuit the said party so flying shall be killed, where he cannot be otherwise overtaken, he or they so killing shall be and hereby are justified; and in case any prosecution shall be commenced against any person or persons for the same, he or they may thereto plead the general issue, and give this act in evidence. And moreover, he or they so killing any of the before named offenders (on proof thereof made at any court of general quarter sessions of the peace and goal delivery, for the county where such killing shall happen, and the same being certified by the justices, or any three of them, who are hereby authorized and required to certify the same) shall, on producing such certificate to the president or vice-president in council, receive an order on the treasurer of the state for the sum of three hundred pounds.

Section 8. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if any person or persons shall be called on by any justice of the peace, sheriff, or his deputy, any militia officer, constable, or person robbed, to go in pursuit of either of the said felons or offenders, their aids, abettors, harbourers or concealers, and shall refuse, he or they severally, on conviction before any justice of the peace where he or they shall reside, shall pay a fine of five pounds to the use of the commonwealth, to be recovered as debts of five pounds and under are recoverable by law.

Section 9. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That this act shall be and continue in force until the first day of January, which will be in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-five, and no longer.

June 30. The French Court have allowed, that the ships of the United States of America shall have free access to and from any of the ports of France in the West-India Islands, and to carry their produce to any part of the world (France excepted) on paying a trifling duty; and those articles of produce intended directly for any part of the United States, are to be shipped free of all duty.

The Court of Denmark has taken off most of the import and shipping duty on goods carried to and from the islands of St. Thomas and St. Croix in the West-Indies, and made them more free to all nations than they have been heretofore; and in their published edicts and regulations they seem to court and pay particular attention to the new and rising commercial States of America.

It is now the general opinion of many people, that Mr. Hartly will return without his errand from Paris, and that no commercial treaty will be fixed as yet between Great-Britain and America:—The agreement between France and America, that the ships of the latter shall have free liberty to become the carriers of West-India property to all parts of the world, save to Old France; the Dutch and Danes allowing the same freedom of commerce; and the manifest injury such free trade and access to our islands would do our navigation laws and the revenues at home, all conspire against the conclusion of such a commercial treaty, and but too fatally point out to every man that will think, that this country will experience a considerable diminution in her marine commerce.

We are informed from very respectable authority that the last difference between the negotiating parties at Paris for signing the definitive treaty, was from a refusal on the part of Britain to cede away Gibraltar. Both the Spanish and Dutch peremptorily insist upon its being given to Spain for a valuable consideration; and it is the opinion of many well-informed political men here, that it is the intention of the British Cabinet to give it up.

We are confidently assured, that Government has just come to the knowledge of a commercial treaty, highly injurious to Great-Britain, being negotiating between the Powers who stiled themselves the Armed Neutrality. In consequence of this information, special messengers have been dispatched to the Continent, and particularly to Russia, to know if the Empress is a party in this business, or if the negotiation is carried on with her knowledge and approbation.

July 1. Letters from Vienna say, that a treaty is negotiating between the Emperor and the Czarina, in which they mutually pledge themselves, that if either shall engage themselves in a war with the Turks, the other shall immediately take a decided and spirited part against the Infidels, and that neither shall make peace independently of, or without the concurrence of the other contracting power.

It is well known that the treaty of armed neutrality was aimed obliquely, and sometimes put in execution directly against the interests of Great-Britain; if a treaty somewhat similar is in agitation, it is to be hoped that our Ministry will not sleep, as former Ministers have done, while others are watchful to injure their country.

The idea of abolishing exclusive trade can never be agreed to in the present state of Europe.—What, in this case, would become of our trading companies? What would become of the Dutch? It must be an exclusion of common sense to adopt the idea.

Should the Turks be driven out of Europe, which it would be an Herculean labour to accomplish, it is probable that European wars would be yet more frequent than ever, because the several Princes, who so often quarrel for trifles or for nothing, would find sufficient foundation for dispute—about sharing the spoils; for in effect all men and all nations contend for plunder.

Letters from several parts of Germany bring accounts of the great warlike preparations carrying on for building boats for exporting large bodies of land forces over the Danube, whilst considerable detachments of cavalry are said to be on their way to Moravia. They further add, that on the 5th inst. the first envoy of artillery and ammunition was sent off from Budweys; it consists of 800 waggons, and 60 pieces of ordnance. On the 13th a second train will be sent off, and on the 20th a third.

RICHMOND, in Virginia, August 30. By undoubted authority we learn from Fort Nelson, that the Indians have been very peaceable in the Kentucky country since May; many Talks have been delivered to and from the numerous tribes in the north-western quarter, and the great warriors evince a very friendly turn of mind towards their brothers the Big Knives of America, and all their inferior kindred, however distantly related. An exchange of prisoners lately took place between the Commandant at the Falls of Ohio, and the Shawanese tribe; a circumstance unprecedented with savages. Among those we received is a young gentleman, by the name of Johnson. The Indians have promised to return all the plunder they have taken and yet remaining in their hands.

They are not well reconciled to their fathers the English, who they say have conducted them into a scrape, deserted, and left them to shift for themselves. They urge, that they have received many foolish Talks from the other side of the water, such as we suppose are generally used by the ministry; it is suggested that they are induced to believe the great man there has not attended well to his Big Knives; that they have got very dull of late, and must be sharpened before they are fit for butchering again.

PHILADELPHIA, September 10. Yesterday arrived here the ship General Washington, Captain Barney, from Havre de Grace, which place he left on the first of August, and touched at Poole, in England, where he landed the hon. Henry Laurens, Esq; on his way to London. We learn that the definitive treaty was not signed when Capt. Barney sailed: That Treaties of Commerce with America were signed by the Courts of Portugal and Denmark: And that a Treaty of Alliance was concluded between the Courts of France and England, to support the Turks against the Empress of Russia and the Emperor of Germany.

The ship Hope, Captain Robinson, was spoke with on the 4th of July, in the British Channel, all well, 50 days out from Philadelphia.

The ship Commerce, Captain Truxton, arrived in England from Philadelphia the latter end of June, after a fine passage; and the cutter Brothers, Major, is arrived at Folkestone from Philadelphia.

Copy of a letter from Sir Guy Carleton, to the President of Congress. S. I. R.

THE June packet lately arrived, has brought me final orders for the evacuation of this place; he pleases, Sir, to inform Congress of this proof of the perseverance of the Court of Great-Britain, in the pacific system expressed by the provisional articles, and that I shall lose no time, as far as depends upon me, in fulfilling his Majesty's commands.

But notwithstanding my orders are urgent to accelerate the total evacuation, the difficulty of assigning the precise period for this event is of late greatly increased.

My correspondence with General Washington, Governor Clinton, and Mr. Livingston (your late Secretary for foreign affairs) early suggested the impediments tending to retard this service. A letter to Mr. Livingston of the 6th of April, two more to General Washington of the 12th of May and 10th of June, with several to Governor Clinton, stating many hostile proceedings within the sphere of his authority, are those to which I refer, copies of some of these letters I enclose, though I am doubtful to presume the Congress to be informed of all transactions material to the general direction of their affairs.

The violence in the American, which broke out soon after the cessation of hostilities, increased the number of their countrymen to look to me for escape from threatened destruction, but these terrors have of late been so considerably augmented, that almost all within these lines conceive the safety both of their property and of their lives depend upon their being removed by me, which renders it impossible to say when the evacuation can be completed. Whether they have just ground to assert, that there is either no government within your limits for common protection, or that it secretly favours the Committees in the sovereignty they assume, and are actually exercising, I shall not pretend to determine; but as the daily Gazettes and publications furnish repeated proofs, not only of a disregard to the articles of peace, but of barbarous menaces from Committees formed in various towns, cities, and districts, and even at Philadelphia, the very place that Congress had chosen for their residence, I should show an indifference to the feelings of humanity, as well as to the honor and interest of the nation I serve, to leave any of the loyalists that are desirous to quit the country, a prey to the violence they conceive they have so much cause to apprehend.

The Congress will hence discern how much it will depend on themselves and the subordinate Legislatures, to facilitate the service I am commanded to perform; by abating the fears, they will thereby diminish the number of the emigrants: But should these fears continue, and compel such multitudes to remove, I shall hold myself acquitted from every delay in the fulfilling my orders, and the consequences which may result therefrom; and I cannot avoid adding, that it makes no small part of my concern, that the Congress have thought proper to suspend to this late hour, recommendations stipulated by the treaty, and in the punctual performance of which the King and his Ministers have expressed such entire confidence.

I am, Sir, your Excellency's most obedient,
And most humble servant,
GUY CARLETON.

His Excellency ELIAS BOUDINOT, Esquire.

To be LETT or SOLD,

A CONVENIENT BREWERY, MALT-HOUSE and DWELLING-HOUSE, situate at the corner of Fourth and Race-streets, in Philadelphia, now in the tenure of Francis Wade. The dwelling-house is three storied, having two kitchens and sufficient cellar room; which, in case of a partnership, would very well accommodate two families. The brewery is built upon the newest construction, works two coppers, and has a spacious cellar for fermenting and tonning of beer, which, communicating with a stock vault under the whole of the malt-house (designed for keeping of liquors) renders the works throughout better adapted for carrying on of business largely, with few hands, than most in the place.

As the present tenant is to leave the premises by the 8th of next month, it is presumed those whom it may suit, will apply in time, to prevent as little loss as may be, of the next brewing season. For terms and further particulars enquire in Market-street, between Fifth and Sixth-streets, of

To the PUBLIC.

THE subscriber, late Master of the Academy at Lancaster, has removed to this city. Encouraged by many respectable citizens, he has opened an Academy for the instruction of youth in the English and French languages, in writing, arithmetic, book-keeping, and the necessary branches of practical mathematics.

The honorable testimony with which the principal gentlemen at Lancaster favoured him, will, he hopes, inspire parents and guardians with a reasonable confidence that his solicitude for the morals and mental improvement of his pupils will give them here the fullest satisfaction.

He can assure the public that the gentleman employed as a teacher of the French language has had a liberal education in one of the Colleges in Paris. Gentlemen, whose judgment may be depended upon, say that he has the best pronounciation of that language, in the grammatical knowledge of which he was early instructed. He likewise understands English, not only to be well understood by his pupils, but to translate with propriety from the one into the other. No public teacher of the French tongue ought to be admitted without these qualifications in this country.

The price of tuition for French students is Forty Shillings per quarter; and by the regulations of the Academy, they have the privilege of being instructed in the English or mathematical schools, at such hours as their parents may direct, without additional expence. All other students pay Thirty Shillings per quarter.

Young ladies or gentlemen, who cannot attend at the public school, may be taught French at their houses, by applying to the subscriber, at the Academy, now kept at Mr. Kinnear's, the north-west corner of Vine and Third-streets.

BATSTO IRON-WORKS,

With the Land, Ore, Teams, Utensils and other Conveniences and Privileges thereunto belonging, situate at the Head of the Tide or Fords of Egg-Harbour river, in New-Jersey, within 38 miles of the city of Philadelphia,

Are offered for S A L E,

CONSISTING OF—

A FURNACE, sufficiently large and commodious to produce upwards of 100 tons of pigs and castings per month, and from the mild and kind quality of the ore, may be continued in blast for two years or upwards, on the same hearth. The metal is remarkably well adapted for castings, both of hollow ware and cannon, in which experience has sufficiently proved it to excel, as well as in producing extraordinary bar iron; it has moreover the peculiar quality of mixing well with, and tempering other iron of various qualities, whereby it usually commands a higher price than other pig iron, both in Europe and America. The Furnace is furnished with an excellent sett of bras patterns for hollow ware, and may be put in blast in a short time, considerable preparations of stock being made, and the business in a proper train for proceeding.

A Rolling and Slitting Mill, which, from the strength and construction of the works, and large head of water, is capable of great execution.

On the same Dam are also a Saw Mill and small Grift Mill; and the stream, which is plentiful in the driest season, is sufficient to admit of extensive additional works.

A Forge with four fires and two hammers, nearly new, well constructed and in good order, now at work, distant about half a mile from the Furnace, on another well adapted stream; on which is also an excellent, newly built Saw Mill; and near the Forge are some Tenements for workmen, and a large new Coal-house.

Contiguous to the Furnace is a commodious Mansion-house, accommodated with a spacious, well cultivated garden, in which is a well chosen collection of excellent Fruit trees of various kinds; and adjoining it a young bearing orchard of about 2000 apple trees, mostly grafted.

A number of dwelling-houses for the best accommodation of tradesmen and others necessarily employed about the works; which, together with the store-house, barns, stabling, smith's shops, nailery, coal-house and other convenient buildings, form a considerable village; the whole of which, together with the various works are overlooked from the door of the Mansion-house, which stands on a pleasant eminence.

A large and plentiful body of Woodland surrounding the works, and within convenient distance, in which are divers Cedar-Swamps, and a considerable quantity of Pine, adapted to Saw-Mills; also large bodies of Ore in various parts, which may be raised and collected with little trouble and expence.

About 200 tons of Pig-Iron on the bank, and near 3000 cords of wood ready for coaling, besides a tolerable supply of coals in stock.

The river affords a good and easy navigation for sea vessels of burden within a mile, or thereabouts, of the works, and for large scows to the Furnace bank, which offers an easy communication by water with Philadelphia, New-York, the West-Indies, &c. It is an excellent situation for trade and for ship-building, being in the midst of a country abounding with boards, scantling, shingles, tar, &c. for merchandize, as well as materials for building suitable vessels; and goods to the amount of many thousand pounds per annum may be vended to advantage in exchange for those commodities. It is moreover an excellent seat for Grift Mills on an extensive plan, as the grain of Virginia, Maryland, and the lower parts of Delaware, may be conveyed thither at a more easy rate than to Philadelphia. If an additional force of water should be wanted, a large stream, passing between the two abovementioned, may be raised at a moderate expence to communicate with, and supply either or both of the other ponds, so as to combine the force of three capital streams to be used at any one point, or separately, as occasion may require.

Terms will be made easy to the purchaser: On the payment of a moderate proportion of the purchase money in cash, time will be given for the residue on interest, or a considerable part will be taken in Loan-Office Certificates, or such other mode of payment as may be agreed upon. Apply to JOHN COX, Esq; at Bloomsbury, near Trenton, CHARLES PETTIT, in Philadelphia, or JOSEPH BALL, managing owner at the said works.

A L L persons indebted to the Estate of DAVID REGISTER, late of the township of Edgmont, and county of Chester, deceased, either by bond, note or book debt, are hereby required to make speedy payment, or they will be dealt with as the law directs; likewise all persons having any demands against said estate, are desired to bring in their accounts to us, the subscribers, that they may be settled and paid.
